REMARKS:

July 2, 2018
At approximately 12:38 p.m. I received a complaint concerning the condition of the animals at Babby Farms, a petting zoo in Sand Hollow. The complainant, Ms. Angela Barry, submitted a letter to ISDA with concern for the care of the animals, the condition of the pens, and the number of animals on the property (Attachment A). The facility was not open on this day, and an investigation was scheduled for the following day.

July 3, 2018
At approximately 9:15 a.m. ISDA Livestock Investigator Kelsey Swainston and I arrived on location at 5900 El Paso Road in Caldwell, ID (Attachment B). I approached the gift shop and made contact with the manager of Babby Farms (Aaron). I informed him of the complaint and requested to see the facility. Aaron offered to escort me through all of the animal exhibits, and I accepted.

At this time I observed a variety of animals including kangaroos, goats, a zebra, a yak, camels, monkeys, llamas, donkeys, birds, otters, cats, pigs, ponies, and more. Approximately 137 animals were on site at this time, and Aaron provided background on each of the animal exhibits.

The pens for the llamas, donkeys, ponies, goats, camels, the zebra, and the yak were all of adequate size and in clean condition. Tracks from a skid steer were observed indicating the pens had been cleaned recently. Aaron confirmed that the pens were cleaned at least once a week. The facility is closed each Monday for cleaning and maintenance.

All of the water troughs in the pens were in the process of being filled with fresh water while I was walking through the facility. Aaron said the water was changed each morning or evening for all the animals in the facility. The water in the ponds for the otters and other animals is changed approximately two (2) to three (3) times per week. New bamboo shade covers were recently installed in the outdoor primate cages (Attachment C-I).

Part way through the facility inspection, Head Zookeeper Duncan Allen joined us to provide more information on the care of the animals. Mr. Allen has been with Babby Farms for approximately eighteen (18) months and consults on a regular basis with veterinarians at the Treasure Valley Veterinary Hospital. The farm does have quarantine facilities for exotic animals and livestock if needed.

The US Department of Agriculture conducts regular inspections of the facility, approximately two (2) to three (3) times per year. The facility also works on a regular basis with the Department of Fish and Game.

At this time, Babby Farms appeared to be clean and well maintained. No underfed animals were observed, and all animals had access to fresh, clean water. There were no items in violation of ISDA rules and regulations noted at this time.

Re: Babby Farms, Nampa, ID

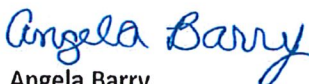

Greetings,

Over Memorial Weekend 2018 I, along with my family went to Babby Farms in Nampa Idaho. It's probably the busiest they have been since summer was just starting and the winter was cold and wet. The conditions that the animals were in was disturbing. The little kangaroo's cage was full of feces. Children were walking around in the feces. There was a very young kangaroo that looked very sick. We kept asking what was wrong with it and were told it was sleeping but it wasn't. They have food dispenser in front of a lot of the animal's cages. The food in front of the kangaroos might have been pellets that were made for them but I believe that food was making the little one sick. There wasn't a drop of fresh vegetables, fruit, etc. anywhere to be seen. Some of the critters had water, some didn't.

There was lots and lots of cages. The blue macaws were very upset. Two of them were on the ground and never moved. There was one up at the top of the cage trying desperately to get out. All of the cages were small. Some of them had netting over the top, some didn't. That netting isn't going to help with the elements. It might help a little when it gets really warm. Otherwise they have no protection and most of them have no way to get out of the elements. The ones that had boxes to help them get out of the elements were dirty and too small.

I am also disturbed by how many exotic critters they have. There is a lot. Zoos who have financial sponsors and financial backers have less critters than Babby Farms has. I really believe they have more than they can take care of.

I have thought about this complaint, slept on it, and have re-read this letter a few times. I feel this business needs investigated. Thank you for your time.
