Special Considerations

Describe how the following types of animals will receive special attention.

Infants and Young Juveniles

Under the direction of staff veterinarian infants and young juveniles are monitored closely to determine if any intervention is necessary. Special care is taken not to interfere in the bonding process.

Animals in Psychological Distress

After determining possible cause of the distress, the animal will be separated, placed back with a group or introduced to another group.

Animals Approved for Restricted Activity

These animals are closely monitored for any signs of distress. Toys are introduced to allow for stimulating activities.

Individually Housed and Isolated * Animals

Isolated animals are given toys to allow for stimulation. These individuals are monitored to ensure that more than adequate stimulation is provided.

Great Apes Weighing Over 110 Pounds

N/A

* "Isolated" is defined as: "unable to see and hear nonhuman primates of their own or compatible species."

Restraint Devices

Describe and justify any use of restraint devices, including length of time restrained and provisions (including frequency and duration) for unrestrained activity.

The only type of restraint used is physical as the animal would be held by an individual.

This would be done on a case by case situation and only if directed to do so by veterinarian for treatment.

To: Elizabeth J. Goldentyer, DVM
Eastern Regional Director
Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service
Animal Care
92 Main Campus Drive, Suite 200
Raleigh, North Carolina 27606

Dear Dr. Goldentyer:

I have been asked as a third party to review the composting at The Farm at Walnut Creek, Ohio and make recommendations to strengthen the composting plan. The Farm is owned by Henry Hampton who also owns a similar operation in NC called the Lazy 5 ranch which has been in operation for years and he has asked us questions in the past. Currently, I am the Unit Manager for The Animal Poultry Waste Management Center at North Carolina State University and we are frequently asked to help people with various composting and waste management issues. I visited The Farm in December 2014 and looked at the composting operation. I didn't see any major issues with the composting procedures or compost product. However, there needs to be temperature monitoring documentation and on site record keeping. I will be working with representatives of USDA Natural Resources Conservation Services to develop a farm program.

Respectfully,

Carmen Parkhurst, PhD Unit Manager
Animal Poultry Waste Management Center
Professor Emeritus Poultry Science
Emeritus Board Member AAALAC International

Environmental Enrichment

Describe how the physical environment will provide the means of expressing non-injurious, species-typical activities; e.g., perches, swings, mirrors, manipulanda, foraging-type feeding, varied food items, interaction with keepers, etc.

We allow our animals to roam on an island on which we have placed limbs to climb. The enclosure has a large rock that provides shade as well as an area to climb and jump. They are allowed to go inside the enclosure or remain outside. Limbs are strategically placed for jumping from limbs to the large center rock. The large man made rock has indentions that allow the lemurs to climb the rock as well as in and out of the indentions. The island is circular with a diameter of 30 feet. The enclosure where the animals stay at night or during inclement weather is constructed or coated wire and is 8 foot wide, 10 foot long, and 7 foot tall. We have several areas to house lemurs temporarily that are also constructed of coated wire. All enclosures are hung above the ground to be able to wash underneath the pens. Perches, toys, and shelves are made of washable material. Perches and toys provide entertainment and exercise for the animals. The shelves provide an area to rest.

Special Considerations

Describe how the following types of animals will receive special attention.

Infants and Young Juveniles:

Under the direction of staff veterinarian infants and young juveniles are monitored closely to determine if any intervention is necessary. Special care is taken not to interfere in the bonding process.

Animals in Psychological Distress:

After determining the possible cause of the distress, the animal will be separated, placed back with a group or introduced to another group.

Animals Approved for Restricted Activity:

These animals are closely monitored for any signs of distress. Toys are introduced to allow for stimulating activities.

Individually Housed and Isolated Animals:

Isolated animals are given toys to allow for stimulation. These individual are monitored to ensure that more then adequate stimulation is provided.

Great Apes weighing over 110 pounds:

Memorandum

To: File
From: Robert Gibbens
Date: 8/10/20
Re: Henry Hampton, 55-B-0069, CID 3271

Mr. Hampton's file was reviewed on August 10, 2020. The following were noted:

- Mr. Hampton's facilities have received seven inspections since March 2018; four inspections at Site 2 and three inspections at Site 3. One, noncritical NCI was cited on the inspection report for Site 2 on June 26, 2019; that NCI was corrected at the time of inspection. All of the other six inspections resulted in no NCIs cited on the inspection reports. The inspectors were contacted, and guidance in Animal Care's Inspection Guide for determining compliance with the regulations and standards was followed.
- In the Consent Decision and Order that settled and closed APHIS' case against Mr. Hampton (AWA Dockets No. 18-0076, No. 18-0077, No.18-0078), Mr. Hampton paid the civil penalty ordered in the settlement.
- Animal Care has recently received a complaint from PETA alleging noncompliance at Mr. Hampton's facilities. Until an inspection of Mr. Hampton's facilities is conducted, the authenticity and validity of the allegations in the complaint cannot be determined. If noncompliances are identified during our inspections, Animal Care will consider enforcement appropriate for the situation.

Mr. Hampton's license will be renewed provided he submits his renewal application and fees in a timely manner.
