

Buck the Rodeo!

Rodeos showcase animal cruelty.

- Confused cows and horses may be antagonized with painful electric prods or flank straps so they charge out of the chute.
- Baby animals are violently slammed to the ground and their necks are twisted and sometimes broken.
- Innocent rodeo animals often die in agony from aneurysms, heart attacks, and broken backs.
- Rodeos aren't family-friendly. Exposure to violence against animals can make children less empathetic and more aggressive.

Rodeos aren't "tradition" or "entertainment"
– they're horror shows!

TAKE ACTION

LADY
FREETHINKER.

Just Say NO to Rodeos.

Animals used in rodeos are exempt from most anti-cruelty laws, so these innocent victims truly need you to speak out!

5 Ways to Help Rodeo Animals:

- Do not support or attend rodeos – choose cruelty-free entertainment instead.
- Fight pro-rodeo propaganda by sharing content showing the brutal reality.
- Reach out to rodeo venues and urge them to stop hosting these events, letting management know they are participating in animal cruelty.
- Contact rodeo sponsors to let them know they are promoting animal abuse.
- Urge your local policymakers to protect animals by banning rodeos.
